

NOTE: The numbers in this news release were based on unofficial sources from various polling stations abroad. Based on final election results, the unofficial voter turnout should be between 54-58 % (50,000-55,000 voters). The official turnout figure is based on the total number of voters participating in the final election, which will be known in late April once all local election officials have filed statistical reports with the Tibetan Election Commission. TPI does not bear any responsibility for the authenticity of these results.
